LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

February, 1929

Number of books in library	5,789
Number of books added	122
Number of books added by purchase	75
Number of books added by gift	47
Number of books circulated	7,558
Number of new registrations	35
Number of visitors	50

Fewer books were purchased last year than in several years past, but the circulation has increased, especially among the young people. More than half of the books added were gifts, and the most of them were for the children.

The purchase of the last edition of the "International Encyclopedia," in 13 volumes, and the gift of 7 volumes of "Larned's History of Ready Reference for Topical Reading," from the Exeter Library, also "Who's Who in America" (1913-1915) from the Library Commission at Concord, have added much to the working value of our Reference Department.

At the suggestion of Miss Hobart of the Commission, in exchange for the Exeter gift, we sent our 5 volumes of "Larned's History" to the Jefferson Library.

For all gifts and other kindnesses received, we are duly grateful.

EMMA A. CROSS,
Librarian.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Merrimack:

GENTLEMEN:

Herewith I submit my tenth annual report as superintendent of schools, and to this I have attached reports from the headmaster and domestic arts teacher at McGaw and from your school nurse.

MEMBERSHIP

The membership of your schools on January 1, 1929 was as follows: McGaw, 28; Reed's Ferry, 50; Merrimack, 59; Thornton's Ferry, 32; No. 5, 19; No. 6, 6; No. 7, 18; No. 12, 22; total 234. This is exactly the same number as your average membership for 1923 and for 1924, three less than a year ago, but three more than the average for the school year. I believe it is unprofitable to continue the school at No. 6. Motor transportation of these pupils would occasion no hardship, should be cheaper, and ought not detract from the educational opportunities of the children.

The transporting of grades VII and VIII from the Thornton's Ferry school to Reed's Ferry has greatly improved conditions in the former school, and as it appears to me, has through the added number at the latter, increased the interest and improved the school spirit. This arrangement should be continued as long as the membership keeps up at Thornton's Ferry.

TESTS

I am causing to be given throughout this union in grades I and II the Pinter-Cunningham intelligence tests. A graph of the scores secured from about 200 pupils show a close conformity to the curve of normal distribution. This is good evidence that the tests are indicative of the individual abilities and that they have been skilfully given. This is the first time we have been able to secure results in these grades upon which we could place much reliance. The Otis tests will follow in grades III and IV.

The scores are recorded on the permanent record cards for the guidance of the teachers in their work and for other school officials in matters of administration. Though the marks are guarded with professional secrecy, any parent may secure the score received by his child, and it should be very indicative to him of what he should expect from his child in school. Individual differences in the ability of children to master school subjects always have and always will exist. It is not the function of any school to attempt to equalize the attainment of all the children, but rather to secure from all full responses varying in accordance with the individual differences in ability to learn. If the school is properly functioning, some children will receive double promotions while others are obliged to repeat, and such procedure will have to continue until some other scheme of grading has been devised.

The parents should be concerned only as to whether the child is making progress in proportion to his ability to learn school subjects, whether that child is spending four or even eight years in mastering the work of the first six grades. A thorough appreciation of this fact would eliminate many complaints, whether arising from a double promotion or a failure to promote at all.

McGAW NORMAL INSTITUTE

McGaw opened in September with Mr. Gunn as headmaster with one year of experience in that school, Miss Wakely with three years of service and Miss Leslie with no previous experience but carefully selected from a large number of candidates. The work has progressed thus far with very little friction. There seems to be a good spirit in the institution and I believe that it is effectively fulfilling its mission in the community.

THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Your courteous treatment of your teachers has retained seven of the nine previously employed in the elementary schools. As might be expected, there has been a continuance of the good work done last year. Judging from frequent comment I should say that your schools enjoy a good degree of public confidence, a factor so essential for good schools.

EXTRA-TERRITORIAL DISTURBANCES

Twenty-two hundred boys and girls are graduated from New Hampshire high schools each year, and the number is constantly increasing. Nearly 2,000 of these graduates each year wish to pursue their studies farther, and it is blighting to the ambitions of the child, a disappointment to the parents, and an unmeasurable loss to the community whenever our higher institutions are unable to furnish the opportunities sought. The state has no more sacred obligation or greater privilege than the education of its children, nor has it any function so vital to the welfare and happiness of its people. It should be of the utmost concern of the people of New Hampshire to scrutinize carefully the operation of this function and to forestall any deleterious legislation, whether prompted by political motives, personal or local prejudices, or by personal gain. There can be no doubt that bills prompted by such motives have frequently been introduced in our legislature, and that all the motives named are responsible for bills now pending in that body.

The 1921 legislature went on record as opposed to any farther centralization of educational agencies, yet there is pending in the legislature an act, which if passed, by creating a state purchasing agent, would standardize the quality, kind, and extent of supplies used throughout the state, and would call for a state wide adoption of all school books, bringing into our state all of the corruption, inefficiently, inconvenience, and school politics experienced by states where such a system is in vogue. Should the bill become a law, great injury would be done the schools in this town.

An administration bill was passed under a suspension of rules during the first few days of this session of the legislature, calling for the appropriation of $2,500 for securing expert opinion on whether there is, as charged in the bill, a duplication of effort and a consequent loss of money in the normal schools and the state university. This is a matter little understood by the public, either as to the reason for lengthening the training period at the normal schools, or the extent to which the action of the State Board of Education transferred the training of teachers for secondary schools, from our university to our normal schools. Suffice it for me to state that the Trustees of New Hampshire University and the State Board of Education, the two bodies in whose hands is placed the management of these institutions, and who from necessity have given these changes careful consideration, are in perfect accord in these matters. Besides this, the conditions complained of in the bill have resulted in the past two years in offering educational opportunities to a larger number of New Hampshire boys and girls with quite a saving to the state and a much larger one to the parents of the youths. Any reactionary measure would prove an injury to secondary education in the state and would work a hardship for some of our boy and girl graduates.

I am including a mention of these matters in this report to you because the people have placed in your hands the mighty responsibilities attending the guardianship of the public schools.

REPORT OF HEADMASTER OF MCGAW INSTITUTE

To the Superintendent, Trustees of McGaw Normal Institute and Citizens of the Town of Merrimack:

The co-operation of the teachers, students and parents in the work at McGaw this year has been more than gratifying. It has resulted in a higher percentage of attendance; a lower percentage of tardiness, and, what is more important, a greater endeavor to raise the standard of scholarship in all departments of study.

During the past year the Student Body put on a successful Operetta and Minstrel Show. The proceeds from this made it possible for the school to support a fairly successful baseball team during the spring period. The Student Body is also planning to support a baseball team this coming spring. This fall a football and the equipment for a volley ball court was added to the school's store of athletic equipment.

It has been your Headmaster's experience and is his opinion that plenty of organized play, such as, football, basketball, baseball, volley ball, etc., is absolutely essential in developing a high morale and a healthy attitude in any school. The old saying, "A sound mind in a sound body," has never been truer in its application than today.

ENROLLMENT 1928-1929

	Boys.	Girls.
Senior class	2	3
Junior class	0	4
Sophomore class	8	7
	12	16

The courses have strictly followed the requirements as indicated in the State Program of Studies. The courses offered are divided into two Curricula, one for boys and the other for girls, as drawn up by the Board of Trustees and approved by the State Department of Education.

CURRICULUM I. (Boys)

First Year—English, French, History of Civilization, Commercial Arithmetic, Bookkeeping and Commercial Geography.

Second Year—English, French, Algebra and English History.

Third Year—Economics, French or Latin I, Physics and Geometry.

Fourth Year—English, Chemistry, U. S. History, and elect one of the following: Solid Geometry, Advanced Algebra and Trigonometry or Latin II.

CURRICULUM II. (Girls)

First Year—English, French, History of Civilization, Textiles and Clothing.

Second Year—English, French, Algebra, Foods and Nutrition.

Third Year—Economics, French or Latin I, Geometry, The Home, its Care and Management.

Fourth Year—English, U. S. History, The Family and its Members, and elect one of the following: Chemistry or Solid Geometry, Advanced Algebra and Trigonometry, or Latin II.

May it be said in closing that very few parents and friends of the school have taken the opportunity to visit and inspect McGaw during the last year. This is a highly disappointing condition because every parent should be so vitally interested in the work at McGaw that it would clearly appear a duty to visit and inspect the school at least once a year. The Teaching Staff most cordially invites this inspection.

Respectfully submitted,
RAYMOND F. GUNN,
Headmaster.

To the Superintendent, Trustees of McGaw Normal Institute and Citizens of the Town of Merrimack:

During the sophomore year the girls of McGaw Normal Institute take a course in Home Economics called "Foods and Nutrition."

The objective of this course is to give the girls opportunity through instruction and experience to acquire the knowledge necessary to choose food wisely, to prepare it skillfully and to serve it attractively to the family.

The course should result in improvement in the health habits of the girl and of the family. It should lead to increased skill in handling foods and to economy in buying.

To carry out this objective the course includes nutrition, source and manufacture of food products, the principles of food preparation and preservation, meal planning for the family and special occasions.

Each girl is required to prepare ten jars of canned goods and participate in serving ten meals.

The aim of every teacher of home economics is to create closer contact with the home, to have the home making course function in the life of the girl and to give the mother a better understanding and appreciation of the course.

Respectfully submitted,

EVA F. WAKELY,

Teacher of Home Economics.

To the Members of the School Board of Merrimack:

I submit my report as school nurse for the past year.

I am glad to report an increase in the number of teeth taken care of during the past year; also an improvement shown in the number of tonsils treated, but, there are yet altogether too many of these defects among our school children. We also have a large number of unvaccinated children this year, quite a few more than last year. I hope this can be corrected before another year.

We have a large number of children, seven per cent or more, underweight. I think this is partly due to the fact so many leave home early in the morning and have only a cold lunch at noon, and others due to defective tonsils. It is gratifying to see the large number that bring milk to drink with their lunch.

As a whole the personal cleanliness of the children has improved in all grades in all the school. This shows co-operation and work on the teacher's part as well as the parents.

I would like to make one suggestion in regard to the shades in the primary room at Reed's Ferry. We are getting a number of children from that room with defective vision. The shades in this room are a dark green, now on a bright pleasant day the shades have to be drawn to keep the bright glare out of the children's eyes, but, the dark shades when drawn make the room very dark and I would suggest shades of a lighter color be used in place of the dark ones, this would protect the children's eyes from the glare and yet eliminate the strain caused by the use of the dark shades.

There has been very little sickness among the school-children during the past year.

I am adding a list of defects found and treatment secured or improvement shown during the past year.

		Number treatment secured or improvement shown.
Number examined	173
7 per cent or more underweight	35	15
Number defective teeth	55	22
Number defective tonsils	42	10
Number defective visions	18	8
Number defective breathing	11	5
Number enlarged glands	10	5
Number skin disease	5	5
Number pediculosis	10	6
Number unvaccinated	58	1

Respectfully submitted,

JOSIE MERRILL, R. N.,

School Nurse.
